

About River Berry Farm

General: River Berry Farm is a family owned, organic small fruit and vegetable farm operating in Fairfax, Vermont since 1992. We are Jane Sorensen, David Marchant and our children, Huck and Ada, along with our great crew. We grow 50 acres of vegetables, 3 acres of strawberries, 1 acre of raspberries, and 18,000 square feet of greenhouse crops.

Bedding Plants: The greenhouses open May 1st with annual and perennial flower plants and organic vegetable and herb plants ready to be planted in your gardens along with hanging baskets, fruit, flowering shrubs, and pollinator-friendly garden-worthy perennials and lawn-alternative native plants.

Organic Strawberries and Raspberries: The organic strawberries are available starting about the third week of June through the first week of July. Organic fall-bearing raspberries are available mid-August through September. We love the chance meeting of neighbors in the patch.

Organic Vegetables: We grow a diversity of organic vegetables that become available at our farm stand as they ripen. We use many season extension techniques such as transplanting, row covers and greenhouses to get the produce to you as early and for as long as we can.
